The Contractor Review Board has a couple seats that are expiring this year. Applications will be accepted and currently seated members may apply to keep their positions. Please contact Melissa Sheets or Ramona Zavacky for information on the process and the openings available.

I still have not heard of a definitive date for the final adoption of the 2008 National Electric Code. As stated before, we are currently allowing the use of the 2005 or 2008 NEC.

There still seems to be some confusion on the county required mechanical form. All portions of the form are required to be completed. If portions are not applicable then indicate that as well. As always, the most current form is required to be used and can be obtained at Central Permitting or directly from the website. Please note on the submitted paperwork if the units are being replaced on an existing roof stand. This will eliminate delays in permitting.

As a reminder, please call all inspection requests into the automated inspection line. Inspection requests should only be called in to Central Permitting if there is a problem getting through to the system. There may be a reason that inspection requests are not being allowed.

In an effort to avoid penalties and delays in permit issuance, don't forget to renew your license with the county if you are registered or hold a local specialty license. If you do not appear on the Flagler County licensing web site then something is amiss with your information, documentation or outstanding licensing fees.

I am always looking for topics or issues to address I this forum. Please feel free to e-mail any requests you may have directly to me.
